

'DECEPTION' AT ELTINGE WINS GREAT PRAISE

Famous Continental Film, Which Broke New York Records, Shown Here

CONTINENTAL STARS PLAY

"The magnificent cinema, which has won the title of 'Deception', the famous production shown at the Eltinge theatre last night, and again tonight.

A new standard of grandeur and magnificence is set in the picture which witnessed the production. In this picture, Lubitsch, who produced 'Passion', has transferred his characterization of stirring times of history from the French revolution to the reign of Henry VIII. 'Deception' is the second German cinema which has won marked praise throughout the country. 'Deception' being ranked even higher than 'Passion' by some critics. 'Deception' broke all opening records at the Rivoli, New York, coming in its first week to 51,274 admissions. It was held a second week, and then a third, and when the third week's business surpassed the second it was held a fourth, the only picture to be shown four consecutive weeks in that theatre.

Lubitsch has won great fame as a director who can turn from the screening of a thousand people to the careful filming of one or two. His most scenes of 'Passion' are duplicated in 'Deception' with a more pleasant but none the less magnificent filming of a great hunting scene in Merrie England and the coronation of Anne Boleyn in which the famous Westminster Abbey is faithfully reproduced.

Henry Porten and Emil Jennings, two of the most famous screen players in Europe, appear in the leading roles, the former as the beautiful Anne Boleyn who tore a country in twain and lifted the crown from the head of a queen and set it on her own, but who with all was more sinned against than sinning, and Bluff King Hal faithfully pictured by Emil Jennings as a fickle husband, a royal good fellow, unscrupulous yet with kindly courage at times.

The picture makes the Eltinge program slightly longer than usual but so artistically is the production presented that one does not notice the time pass nor does one tire. The play is at the Eltinge again tonight.

GRAIN DEALERS CONSIDER CO-OP DEVELOPMENTS

Meeting of National Association To Be Held in Chicago October 3

Chicago, Sept. 22.—(Continued from page 7.)—The Grain Dealers National Association to cooperative grain marketing companies recently set under way by several farmers organizations will be a subject of consideration at the grain men's twenty-fifth annual convention opening here Oct. 3. An attendance of 2,000 representing the Chicago Board of Trade, other grain exchanges, and individual grain men is anticipated.

A special committee of the grain dealers' association, which has been conducting an educational campaign among farmers in which grain pooling has been touched on, will report. Farmers have been urged by the committee to study grain pooling contracts closely before signing. Future activities of the committee, it is expected, will be determined by this convention.

World finance and foreign trade, as well as recent legislation governing grain exchanges and marketing problems, will also be discussed.

Speakers announced include U. S. Senator Medill McCormick, David B. Morgan, president of the National City Bank, Chicago; Joseph P. Griffin, president of the Chicago Board of Trade; Governor Warren T. McCray of Indiana; Frank O. Lowden, former governor of Illinois; Asbury F. Lever, of the Federal Farm Loan Bureau, Washington; and B. E. Clemens, of Waco, Texas, president of the Grain Dealers National Association.

BROOM DEMAND SHOWS SLUMP

Many Who Stayed Away Late at Night Are Safer

Oklahoma City, Okla., Sept. 22.—The man who stayed away from home later than necessary this year, was only half so likely to be greeted with the swish of a broom or broom handle, as he was last year, according to the first survey ever made of the broom corn industry, and made public here today by C. B. Alguire, statistician of the hay, feed and seed division of the U. S. Bureau of Markets and Crop Estimates.

His reviews shows that the per capita sales this year were about 40 per cent of normal and that the total sale of brooms amounted to slightly more than sixty per cent of normal.

The broom corn industry has moved slowly this year, compared with several years past, a general stagnant condition existing, which was not expected at all when the season for the 1920 crop opened.

The outlook then was comparatively favorable, Mr. Alguire says, with the carry over of 1919 estimated as being one of the smallest on record, and the new crop which later proved to be 33,000 tons, compared with a six-year average of 48,000 tons, in the United States, gave every indication of being the smallest crop in years.

"Bear" Forecasting.

The survey covers the entire broom corn industry of the United States.

These conditions of "bear" forecasting should ordinarily have caused an extremely active market for a raw product, he says, but almost the opposite was the case. Farmers have hauled their straw to market and in many cases refused to sell it after they had hauled it in, saying the price did not compensate for the labor involved.

Increased use of substitutes, too many factories operating, improved methods of building, the decrease in the use of horses and the increase in street paving, new methods of sanitation, curtailment of consumption due

CLEAN-UP SQUAD TO VISIT CITY TO MEET WOUNDED VETS OCT. 3-4

An opportunity will be given every veteran of the World War in Burlington, Dunn, McLean, Mercer, Oliver, Morton, Emmens, Logan and McIntosh counties to receive assistance in the settling of claims for compensation, advice as to hospitalization or vocational education or information relative to any problems arising from his war service during Oct. 3, 4 and 5, Oct. 3, 4, 5 A. M. when the local "Clean Up" campaign is on. The Red Cross and American Legion are participating in this work at the request of the government and a united effort is being made to help every ex-service man who needs assistance of any sort.

The "Clean Up" squad will make its headquarters in Bismarck. Its members, include a Medical Examiner and a representative of the Federal Board for Vocational Education Examiner, a Compensation and Insurance Claims

The district convention is an aftermath of the organization of officers' mess associations in the larger cities of the United States, according to Nelson L. Shultis, of this city, who is arranging for the meetings. Matters affecting the army were discussed at these luncheons and it was decided to widen the scope of the "messes" and enlist the aid of all officers in the area.

Contact Examiner, and representatives from the Red Cross and the American Legion. Persons who have made previous claims which they believe were not satisfactorily adjusted may apply for a re-opening of their cases as well as men desiring vocational training or awaiting claim adjustment.

An especial effort is being made to get in touch with every man in the county who is in any way entitled to assistance. Where it is not possible because of illness or disability to present claims in person, the Red Cross workers will endeavor to assist in getting necessary information to members of the squad.

As this is the most intensive effort, which has yet been made to locate all claimants and adjust their claims satisfactorily the co-operation of every resident is asked in reaching these cases. Additional information may be secured at Red Cross headquarters.

16,000 MOVIES REVENUE TWO MILLION A DAY

Millwaukee, Wis., Sept. 22.—There are 16,000 motion picture theaters in the United States and the revenue taken in at these places of amusement amounts to an average of $2,000,000 a day, Hon. Timothy D. Hurley, chairman of the Motion Picture Commission of Chicago, told the national conference of Catholic Catechists here tonight.

"It follows," continued Mr. Hurley, "that in their homes, Broadway between 28th and 37th streets should become a one-way street."

Now that plan has been abandoned. Merchants have complained that the northbound night traffic was diverting to other thoroughfares. Business which should come to them.

BABY BORN ON PEACE DAY

After Mother Had Been Restored to Health by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound

Salisbury, Mass.—"For seven years I had a female trouble and such bearing-down pains I could hardly do my household work. The doctor said, 'If you can have another baby it might be the best thing for you but I am afraid you cannot.' I began taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and my baby was born on 'Peace Day.' If women would only take your Vegetable Compound they would have better health. I always recommend your Vegetable Compound to the neighbors."—Mrs. TRACY PATTEN, 2 Lincoln Ave., Salisbury, Massachusetts.

The experience of maternity should not be approached without careful physical preparation, as it is impossible for a weak sickly wife to bring healthy children into the world.

Therefore if a woman is suffering from a displacement, backache, inflammation, ulceration, bearing-down pains, headaches, nervousness or 'the blues' she should profit by Mrs. Patten's experience, take Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and be restored to health.

Tinkering Again With Gotham Traffic; Police Have Hard Job Regulating It

New York, Sept. 22.—Again they're tinkering with New York's traffic.

The police department, long has been unable to dodge the law of physics, that two objects can't occupy the same space at the same moment. And with the number of automobiles increasing daily, and the crowd of pedestrians, the problem is a growing one.

In the old days, traffic went up and down Broadway much as some would say, any Main street the country over, though with the same result. It was a one-way street, and the world-famous Broadway was no exception.

But the white line was decided that night of 1910, when most taxi-cabs were bound up Manhattan to their homes, Broadway between 28th and 37th streets should become a one-way street.

Now that plan has been abandoned. Merchants have complained that the northbound night traffic was diverting to other thoroughfares. Business which should come to them.

ESSEX TOURING CARS MAKE NEW TRAVEL RECORDS

All Transcontinental Records Are Broken in Remarkable Trips

Four Essex Touring Cars were sent across America (two cars started from San Francisco and two from New York) in August 1921 and all broke all previous transcontinental records. Aside from the time made by these four cars, a significant feature was the fact that all cars carried United States Mail, the first time that automobiles were permitted to transport mail across the continent.

The distance of the route traveled from San Francisco to New York was 2,447 miles. The route to New York was via Ely, Nev.; Salt Lake City, Cheyenne, Omaha, Des Moines, Fort Snelling, Iowa; Valparaiso, Ind.; Fort Wayne; Lima, Ohio; Columbus, Pa.; and New York City.

The time of the four cars was: Car No. 1—S. F. to N. Y., 14 days, 14 hours, 43 minutes, beating last previous time eastbound by 12 hours, 15 minutes.

Car No. 2—N. Y. to S. F., 14 days, 15 hours, 17 minutes, beating last previous time westbound by 22 hours, 14 minutes.

Car No. 3—S. F. to N. Y., 14 days, 21 hours, 56 minutes, beating the former record by 5 hours, 35 minutes.

Car No. 4—N. Y. to S. F., 15 days, 6 hours, 12 minutes, also beating the former record.

The average time for the four cars was 4 days, 21 hours and 32 minutes. Cars number 3 and 4 met with severe storms in the west, encountering deep mud which slowed up their progress.

The second Essex car sent from N. Y. to S. F. was diverted from its route long enough to touch Chicago, establishing a new record from New York to Chicago of 24 hours, 10 minutes and 50 seconds, beating last previous record for that route by 2 hours, 1 minute and 10 seconds.

The cars were not driven by professional drivers. The entire task of piloting being entrusted to Essex Distributors and Dealers along the route. Each car was driven by 25 different men during the trip. This meant 25 different kinds and methods of handling, under each of which the car must perform with equal speed and smoothness.

Likewise no standard kind or quality of gasoline and oil were used, each driver supplying himself along the way with whatever was available. On the deluxe passenger trains

The distance of the route traveled from San Francisco to New York was 2,447 miles. The route to New York was via Ely, Nev.; Salt Lake City, Cheyenne, Omaha, Des Moines, Fort Snelling, Iowa; Valparaiso, Ind.; Fort Wayne; Lima, Ohio; Columbus, Pa.; and New York City.

The time of the four cars was: Car No. 1—S. F. to N. Y., 14 days, 14 hours, 43 minutes, beating last previous time eastbound by 12 hours, 15 minutes.

Car No. 2—N. Y. to S. F., 14 days, 15 hours, 17 minutes, beating last previous time westbound by 22 hours, 14 minutes.

Car No. 3—S. F. to N. Y., 14 days, 21 hours, 56 minutes, beating the former record by 5 hours, 35 minutes.

Car No. 4—N. Y. to S. F., 15 days, 6 hours, 12 minutes, also beating the former record.

The average time for the four cars was 4 days, 21 hours and 32 minutes. Cars number 3 and 4 met with severe storms in the west, encountering deep mud which slowed up their progress.

The second Essex car sent from N. Y. to S. F. was diverted from its route long enough to touch Chicago, establishing a new record from New York to Chicago of 24 hours, 10 minutes and 50 seconds, beating last previous record for that route by 2 hours, 1 minute and 10 seconds.

The cars were not driven by professional drivers. The entire task of piloting being entrusted to Essex Distributors and Dealers along the route. BIG BUILDING IN CITY SOLD TO G. N. LANGUM

Head of Business College Takes Over College Building at Main and Sixth Streets

BOUGHT OF ST. ALEXIUS

Sale of the Bismarck Business College building, one of the largest real estate deals made in the city in many months, by St. Alexius hospital to G. N. Langum, proprietor of the business college, was completed today. It is understood the transaction involved about $40,000, including approximately $14,000 spent in remodeling and repairs by the present owner.

Mr. Langum expressed an opinion which he has held of the building for five years. Under the option, he said, improvements had been made by him, including improvements now being completed, amounting to about $14,000. The improvements now being completed include remodeling, putting down of new floors and installation of city heat.

The business college, which has been established for 16 years and which was taken over by Mr. Langum six years ago, has been in the present block at Main and Sixth streets for five years. The college has an enrollment during the year of about 300.

The Business College building was built during the big boom in Bismarck in 1884, intended as a hotel, but when developments did not materialize as expected it was sold by Alexander McKinzie and R. B. Mellon, the latter of the Pittsburgh family of Mellons of which the present secretary of the United States Treasury, Andrew Mellon, is a member. The hospital and St. Mary's school shared the building until 1891 when the hospital took over the entire building and continued to occupy it until the hospital was built.

Park River, Sept. 23.—The 32nd convention of the North Dakota W. C. T. U. here took up the business of the convention today, following the address by Mrs. Elizabeth Preston Anderson, of Fargo, last evening and other preliminaries.

"The battle is now for law enforcement," said Mrs. Anderson in her president's address. "The question is not prohibition or license, dry or wet,—it is enforcement or lawlessness. Prohibition is here and it is here to stay. It is a party of the organic law of the land and the question is, 'Shall the law be respected?'" said Mrs. Anderson in her address.

In speaking of the Volstead Act, Mrs. Anderson said:

"We have learned that no law enforces itself and we have also learned that the enforcement of no other law has met with such organized opposition as has the enforcement of this law. The liquor interests openly boasted that if the Eighteenth Amendment was adopted it could never be enforced and that the government could not enforce it, even with one third of its standing army. You see it is treason we are fighting, treason well organized, treason well financed."

"There has been a systematic circulation of false reports as to the effects of prohibition, especially in foreign countries where the fight is on. There has been a continual effort to weaken the Volstead act so as to permit the sale of wine and beer. There has been a well-concealed effort to secure the appointment of whiskey officials to enforce the prohibition law and bring to judgment the offenders. This has succeeded in some instances."

Mrs. Anderson stated that the organization appreciated the work of Commissioner Kramer and stated that the new prohibition commissioner, Roy A. Haynes, is also in entire sympathy with the Eighteenth amendment.

"The fight for enforcement is attended with peculiar difficulties, as it is often a fight with the enemy of the dark," said Mrs. Anderson. "It is a guerrilla warfare, and a guerrilla warfare needs patience, persistence and nimble wits. There should be the most cordial cooperation between federal and state enforcement officers, backed by the hearty support of the local citizens."

"EAST IS WEST" SECOND HIT OF SAMUEL SHIPMAN

Samuel Shipman and John B. Hymer are the authors of the comedy "East is West" in which William Harris, Jr. will present Fay Bainter at the Auditorium Wednesday Sept. 27. Mr. Shipman will be remembered as one of the authors of that popular drama "Friendly Enemies" and Mr. Hymer is known as an actor and author of sketches for the varieties. While due credit must be given to Messrs. Shipman and Hymer for providing the play, the story of the success of "East is West" is not complete without including mention of the delightful performance of Miss Bainter in the role of Ming Toy. This characterization has made her

He was threatened with an operation for stomach and bowel trouble and is sure he will be all right now. We both suffered from indigestion and bloating with gas. It is a simple, harmless preparation that removes the catarrhal mucus from the intestinal tract and allays the inflammation which causes practically all stomach, liver and intestinal ailments, including appendicitis. METHODISTS OF NATION GIVING MORE LIBERALLY

More Than $33,000,000 Given By Church For Benevolent Purposes

ALL RECORDS SURPASSED

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 23.—“More than $33,000,000 has been paid into the Methodist Episcopal Church treasury for benevolent purposes since June 1, 1919, and pledges given in its $100,000,000 Centenary Campaign at the close of the war,” Dr. R. J. Wade, Chicago, told the church's Northern Minnesota Conference, in session here.

Dr. Wade is corresponding secretary of the committee on Conservation and Advance of the Methodist Episcopal Church.

“This is the most remarkable example of increased benevolent giving in the history of the Methodist Episcopal church, if not of any other church,” Dr. Wade declared.

“The church can never again go back to the old basis of giving. To try it will be fatal. The new vision and the revelation of new needs challenge us to do the things which ought to be done, irrespective of what may have been said when vision was shorter than it is now and when opportunities and needs were not so well revealed.

“We must begin now to plan an adequate survey and a plan and estimate of the prospective work of the church over a ten or fifteen year period.

Education of Whole Church

“A continuous evangelistic program as broad as the program of Jesus. An education of the whole church to what has been done and of what must be done by our ministers, missionaries and laity.

“A greater co-operation with other denominations, that we may divide tasks, avoid waste and duplications. Our aim must be, not sectarian propaganda so much as the Christianization of whole social order, by the best and wisest available means.

“The unification and simplification of our machinery. The highest efficiency at the lowest cost is the demand of the hour.

“We must have faith in ourselves and in our ability to do and to live, and we must be willing to bring the methods of work of the modern church up on a scale commensurate with the progress and developments of modern business methods.

Depression Giving Way

“Depression is giving way to optimism; an era criticism and misunderstanding to an era of faith and achievement. Eight boards are receiving their full apportionments; ten boards must soon so receive, so are operating on a standard far beyond the standard of the church when the Centenary began; we prepare for tomorrow when we will be building on a standard far in advance of even today's promising gains.”

Dr. Wade announced a National Conference of the church to consider its world wide missionary and benevolent interests to be held in the church house of Central Methodist Episcopal, Detroit, Michigan, November 15 to 17.

Dr. Wade said “the purpose of the Conference is to assemble representatives of the Methodist Episcopal Church for three days of Thanksgiving, prayer and council, a realized need and the church's reply. The conference will be held for information, inspiration and deepening of the spiritual life of the Methodist Episcopal church.”

H. C. L. GRIPS TURK CAPITAL

Bread Costs Ten Times As Much as Before World War

GOVERNMENT BANKRUPT

Loss of Rich Thracian and Macedonian Plains is Felt

BY MILTON BRONNER

Constantinople, Sept. 23.—Because of what the war has done to the Turkish empire, this city is the most expensive place in Europe and one of the most expensive places in the world.

The casual visitor only feels it when he is “stung” from eight to twelve dollars a day for room and bath in a hotel and in like proportion for his meals, but the natives feel it every day in a dozen different ways.

Here is what the people of the town are up against:

Bread costs 1000 per cent more than before the war, sugar 2235 per cent, coffee 815 per cent, rice 1700 per cent, potatoes 1800 per cent, onions 3200 per cent, milk 2315, cheese 2065, lamb 1755, kitchen butter 1400, eggs 1350, clothing 1400 and shoes 900

And before the war this town was noted for the cheapness of its local produce.

The reasons for the change: The government of the country is bankrupt and becoming more so every day; the Turkish piastre is becoming cheaper in the world's money markets and consequently its purchasing power is falling; its capital is cut off from the outside world; everything of value and interest in the city has been looted or added to its war-torn ruins by the refugees from Turkey in Europe no longer can sists of the rich Thracian and Macedonian plains, full of grain and herds, but only of Constantinople and a hinterland of small area. All the rest is Greek.

Turkey in Asia, which is ruled in the hands of the Greeks, is not in the hands of the Turks, and the Turkish government here, and refuse to accept the terms of the peace treaty which is imposed.

War and consequent disorders there has not only been a big decrease in the amount of silk, wool, tobacco, olive oil, figs, raisins, nuts, skins, hides, mounair and gallnuts, which the empire used to produce, but little of it is finding its way here for handling by the merchants who once controlled the business.

Trade has, therefore, been very much at a standstill.

Such conditions in other conquered nations have usually brought about great labor disturbances, but this is not true of Constantinople. Labor organizations, such as we know them, have never thrived in Turkey.

While the immediate future for business looks dark enough, there is no lack of keen competition and active preparation for what the future may bring.

In the past, Great Britain and Germany held a predominant position in Turkish trade.

However, a recent report made to the British government, says that at the present time the chief competitor Britain has in Turkey is America.

This is especially true in the sale of boots and shoes, motor cars, soda ash, canned fruits, coal, fats and greases.

The American Chamber of Commerce for the Levant has done a whole lot to boost American goods.

MANDAN NOTES

BARBECUE AND PICNIC DRAWS MANY VISITORS

Morton County Purebred Beef Cattle Demonstration Held

Morton county farmers and townspeople gathered at the Oak Coulee ranch of John Dawson, 26 miles southwest of Mandan yesterday, for a big barbecue and demonstration of the possibilities in raising purebred beef cattle.

Not less than 600 people were present.

In the Dawson ranch the visitors found a convincing demonstration of the possibilities in raising purebred beef cattle. His experience showed that good cattle can be raised without elaborate fencing or buildings and on food given to native cattle. Mr. Dawson feeds no grain to his purebred Angus cattle.

A yearling Angus steer was barbecued—roasted in a sealed pit—and the crowd was served with choice bits. Other refreshments were served. The “nut quarter” and the Mandan band furnished music.

Thomas Sullivan, of Mandan, presided at the meeting. John F. Sullivan, welcoming the guests, said that they were on the ground chosen by the buffalo for a feeding ground, and declared that the feeding ground of the buffalo becomes the fattening yard for beef.

G. N. Keniston, of the Bismarck Commercial club, spoke of the advantages of raising purebreds and declared the purebred sire is the “patron of prosperity.”

H. B. Fuller, state director of the Farm Bureau, spoke and Frank Sanford, of Valley City, demonstrated the method of judging the good points of a purebred Angus steer.

Those in charge of the county picnic were elated over the attendance at the meeting. It is proposed to advocate the raising of purebred beef cattle as well as the extension of dairying through the Slope country.

The Presbyterian church parlors were beautifully decorated with baskets and bouquets of asters, gladiolas and petunias at the Old Timers' social held there yesterday afternoon. The social was given by the Old Timers of the Ladies Aid as a farewell to Mrs. Barnes, who leaves Bismarck the fifth of October for Washington, D. C., where she will be a guest at the home of her daughter during the winter months. Over one hundred and fifty ladies gathered at the church parlors yesterday and spent a pleasant social afternoon. A short musical program was given. Refreshments were served by the committee in charge.

MODERN DAUGHTERS No. 1—The Frivolous

BY RUTH AGNES ABELING

Of course, you're worried about her. You're afraid she isn't going to turn out just as well as she might. She leaves it to you to keep Harold entertained on the front veranda while with an arm born of other such emergencies she whisks him out the back door.

She snips off her hair and cuts off the bottom of her skirts.

She buys powder and color frankly, dashes it on just frankly and then spends 10 minutes trying to decide just where the patch should go. She always emerges eventually, with the audacious thing candidly pointing to her pretty mouth.

And that strikes terror in your heart. It reminds you of some magic chatter you overheard in which the girl who seemed more popular than the rest exclaimed, "What's a date without a kiss?"

Your blood warms to the thought of your daughter making a friend of a girl with such ideas!

You have a right to be shocked. It's a new thing to you and hard to grasp. But don't blame your daughter, or imagine that she's on the road to ruin. Of course, she wants to be popular. The prospect of being a wall flower is not attractive to any girl.

Today she needs your sympathy and your understanding more than the daughter of any previous age.

All of your insecurity, your thought, your talents should be given to helping her escape the soil and the grime, without giving up all the good time. Don't criticize!

Win her confidence through sympathy! Understand and guide her.

SEEING IS BELIEVING

Fabrics fashioning Autumn's Frocks, Suits and Coats, deserve especial scrutiny.

Coat and suit materials of Wandia, Marvella, Fawnskyn, Panvelaine and Duvet de Laine are gorgeous with hues as subtle and delicate as nature's own—Modes adapted from the Chinese, Greeks and Spanish present a most bewitching result.

The new frocks either for matron or miss are unquestionably black, that is, if they're not black and white. There is no neglect of brown, however, and the most vivid hues; while for street wear, navy blue retains its chic.

Elaborateness of beading, embroidering and exquisite silk petals or wheels are generally used.

Reviving the romantic Picture Hat of olden days and bringing into play a decided Spanish influence the hat of larger proportions sounds the keynote of Autumn Dress Occasion.

Recent importations of French blouses are on display in our blouse section. We are specializing on larger sizes.

Queen Quality SHOES

BEAUTY is more than skin deep in Queen Quality shoes, because beauty starts with the smartly modeled, exclusive "lasts" over which the shoes are tailored, and is built up through the hundreds of operations in making.

Twenty-six days in the making are required to create Queen Quality perfection, but the Queen Quality organization has been achieving this perfection for more than twenty-six years. That is one reason for the preeminence of Queen Quality fit and style and value at the attractive price you pay.

The other reasons you will learn in the pleasing experience of wearing Queen Quality shoes this season.

THE STATE'S OLDEST NEWSPAPER
(Established 1873)

BISMARCK'S DOLLAR DAYS

Bismarck merchants, in their first Dollar Day sales on September 28 and 29, are nicely combining a good will festival with business. Wide interest has been attracted by the announcement of the sale. Greater publicity is being given to the event than on any other such occasion.

The plan was approved by the Bismarck Town Criers. The Town Criers stand for "Truth in Advertising" and they gave their hearty approval in the fullest confidence that there would be no need to stultify their principles. They are adding their bit to the good will festival with offering of free amusement.

The message of more than fifty merchants who have cooperated in the event is being carried into many thousand homes. Special advertising features have been used, abundant publicity given through the columns of The Tribune and in the special Dollar Day section of The Tribune will be found a great store of bargains which the average purchaser can ill afford to overlook.

The purpose of this concerted effort is to bring merchants and their customers into closer contact by means of a special effort at a special time. As a part of the plan special prices have been made on a great variety of goods, and in order to bring the selling prices within the dollar mark the merchants have in many cases disregarded profits and given their attention strictly to the work of making their stores and their goods attractive to their customers. An effort of this kind carried out in the spirit which has characterized this one is bound to succeed. There will be the especially attractive features, but there also will be displayed for examination an immense line of attractive goods at attractive prices. The event is one toward which the community has been looking for some days, and the result, it is anticipated, will be in every sense satisfactory.

BIRTH OF SALLIE JEFF LUCAS

It was precisely at 6 a. m. Saturday that Sallie Jeff Lucas was born.

At 7:30 her mother dressed and went to breakfast.

On Tuesday morning, when Sallie Jeff was barely 24 hours old, her mother and father took her to church, and Sunday afternoon they went for a 15-mile auto ride.

On Monday Sallie Jeff's mother did her housework and watched tenderly over her first born. Medical science must marvel.

The explanation? "It is the knowledge of what God is to man," said the mother, Mrs. Jeff Lucas, 1109 College ave., Fort Worth, Tex. "God is love, and as we trust there is no pain and no sorrow."

Faith! That's the answer. It is the foundation of all religions, just as it is the foundation of the Christian Science creed, to which Mrs. Lucas subscribes.

The faith that men move mountains robs child-birth of its terrors. When science has explained faith, it will have reached its ultimate. But science never will explain faith—for science is human, faith is divine.

A Japanese newspaper refers to "those questions that can be settled only by war." That will cause benevolent smiles among the Chinese, who once sent 22,000,000 Mongol warriors westward against the white man.

The Mongols, in their military excursion which lasted several centuries, conquered India, Persia, Arabia, Turkey and all of Europe. Their advance scouts went as far as Portugal. The Mongol armies finally were defeated at the Marne by Turkish mamelukes, white slaves from Egypt. They retreated through Russia. By the time this racial movement got back home, inter-marriage with the conquered had produced a new race, which promptly attacked China.

"War is a boomerang," said the Chinese. "In the long run, both sides lose. We've learned our lesson. No more wars for us."

Your ancestors' fear of those Chinese armies runs in your blood as a vague fear of The Yellow Peril.

War never settled anything. Charlemagne's three grandsons divided Europe among themselves 1078 years ago. Charles the Bold took the throne of France. Louis the German too Germany. Soon they fell a-quarreling over the lands allotted to the third brother, half-wit Lothair. Each especially wanted Lothair's prize possession, Alsace-Lorraine. Many wars have been fought over those

"lost provinces" by the descendants of Charles and Louis. Each seemed decisive—at the time.

Nothing was really settled by the recent war with Germany. Diplomats still are trying to patch up a peace that will hold. Net result is that Europe is in greater danger of another war today than it was in 1913. The World War was fought "to end wars." You know how they have been ended.

The Civil War in America was fought to determine where states rights ended and federal rights began. The question remains unsettled.

We fought the Revolution to make us independent. But in the light of our inter-relations with the rest of the world are we really that?

Nothing is ever settled by war, for the simple reason that you can't kill an idea by murdering those who admit they share the idea. Only reason can change an idea or settle a dispute over it.

Killing a man doesn't convert him to an opposite belief. Roman emperors, who tried to kill Christianity by throwing Christians to the lions, found that out.

Man has tried war since two cave men wanted the same woman.

War has proved itself a failure as a settler of disputes. So far, the Chinese are the only people intelligent enough "to get the bunk" of The Great Illusion. Will the white race commit suicide before it, too, beholds the truth and disarms?

HORSES

Next time you count the machines passing your house in a given length of time, count horses also. Connecticut did that, and found one horse to every 372 motor vehicles.

The first American Auto made its trial trip in 1894. Twenty-seven years have practically wiped out the horse, which was man's means of transportation for thousands of years.

The railroad and the auto may exit just as rapidly when flying machines are perfected and made fool-proof.

EDITORIAL REVIEW

Comments reproduced in this column may or may not express the opinion of The Tribune. They are presented here in order that our readers may have both sides of important issues which are being discussed in the press of the day.

"MAIN STREET" STILL "GOES"

And still the sales of "Main Street" go marching on. A few years ago Sinclair Lewis was a humble worker in the ranks of a New York publishing house, but taking his courage in both hands he cut loose from a position and a salary, and soon was able to invade the remunerative pages of the Saturday Evening Post. Several novels came from him, were praised, and lapsed into oblivion, until by that curious inexplicable twist of fate, "Main Street" caught the popular taste. It is now reported to have sold nearly 300,000 copies, with edition after editions coming successively from the press, in Canada, England, Australia and New Zealand. A Swedish translation has just been arranged for, and offers for the German rights are now under consideration.—Boston Transcript.

THE CAUSES OF ARMAMENT

Our government has sent to the other participating countries its idea of the "agenda" for the Washington conference. In this order of business, as it might better and more simply be called, there is scarcely a word about limiting armaments. One of the items mentions "fortifications" in the Pacific, but that is all. Not a line about theoretic formulas of disarmament. Upon this fact certain simple-minded and soft-minded newspapers have seized with an air as of horror. What, nothing about stopping the building of battleships or the cutting down of land forces? Where is the sincerity of Secretary Hughes and President Harding, who profess an ardent desire to relieve the world of military burdens, yet leave that topic wholly out of their program?

If these same querulous objectors had called in a doctor to treat them for a high fever, they probably would not cry out on him for not at once producing a chart of normal temperature. They would be content if he applied himself to getting rid of the inflammation. Let the disease be removed and the question of health would take care of itself. And it ought to be obvious that this is precisely the method which Secretary Hughes is pursuing. If he can dispose of the causes of swollen armaments he does not need to labor the point about limiting navies and armies. They will shrink of themselves. It is policy that makes Government expenditure, and it is international policy that piles up military appropriations. Once secure sanctioned agreements between nations which make heavy armaments superfluous, and they will drop of their own weight.

It is plainly, therefore, the sensible and logical and efficient plan which the Administration is outlining for the Washington conference. The notion of at once calling loudly for the scaling of naval programs would make fine headlines and tickle foolish ears, but it would be half-baked and ill-timed. No nation is going to disarm until it sees its vital interests protected by treaties solemnly guaranteed by an international force too strong to be challenged or defied by any one country. For that kind of protection—good for England and Japan and France and China as well as for the United States—Secretary Hughes is rightly working. He has his eye upon the main thing. Limiting armaments has to be, in the nature of the case, subsequent and secondary.—New York Times.

Distribute the Load and Move the Tax!

"Business cannot move when some of its workers are carrying an undue share of the load," says Senator Smoot of Utah, in proposing a general manufacturers' tax to take the place of special wartime levies on certain industries such as dry goods, motion pictures and automobiles. "Unless the burden is equitable, all suffer."

PEOPLE'S FORUM

Editor Tribune:—

The Recall Campaign is on and there seems no way open to stop it. It seems we are to have another spell of strife, discord and angry contention at a time when the state and the world need nothing so much as they do love, peace and a spirit of mutual helpfulness and cooperation. We need the Spirit of Christ. Men of vision in all departments of life recognize, and emphatically assert this. Roger Babson, the statistician, addressing the Christian Endeavor Convention in New York City recently, said: "The future safety of our country lies in Christianity. It matters not what our form of government is; what our business ability; what our foreign trade; how great and many our dreadnaughts; how thorough our educational system; these things cannot ensure national safety and perpetuity. The principles of Christianity are the only sure foundation for national security. The future of America rests not on Wall Street, but on Plymouth Rock."

If this be true—and who can doubt it—then anything that interferes with the work of promoting Christianity is inimical to the safety and prosperity of the state and nation. In my work as a pastor I have had ample opportunity to observe how the high state of excitement and bitterness engendered by the political strife and turmoil in our state has hindered Christian work and I fear that the recall election, forced upon us at this time, will also greatly injure the cause of Him whose pierced hands are alone able to heal the gaping wounds of humanity.

Christ says: "It must needs be that offenses come, but woe to that man by whom the offense cometh." I admire your attitude toward the Recall, and feel certain that you represent the views of a multitude of excellent citizens in our state. I returned a few days ago from a trip by auto to Grand Forks, visiting on this trip a number of towns and conversing with a great number of people and I have not heard one argument, no not even a word, in favor of the recall from the people with whom I conversed. They seem to feel that the issues were fully discussed and fairly decided last fall, and that this recall election is imposing upon the taxpayers an unnecessary expense, at a time when all our resources are needed to assist the unfortunate citizens of our state, who through successive crop failures, are facing bankruptcy and dire distress. Many ministers and Christian workers have opposed the recall election because it would lead to division when unity is so essential to the best interests of the state and the successful promotion of Christian work. But our opposition did not prevent the campaign, hence let us carefully study both sides of the questions involved, and calmly decide upon the course that we honestly believe to be right. Let us be firm and uncompromisingly true to our convictions, cheerfully granting to others the same privilege.

THE SALES TAX

Exposition of the Theory and Practice of This Form of Taxation

By Hazen J. Burton
President Tax League of America
Chapter XVI.

Q. It has been asserted that a sales tax would be a "certain tax." It has also been asserted that a sales tax would be a "simple tax." When the advocates of the sales tax differ so widely in the amount of revenue to be produced, i. e., anywhere from $1,700, amount to $6,000,000, who is to tell us how can it be shown, without years of experimentation in a new form of taxation, that the tax is either certain or simple?

A. It has been shown in previous chapters that there is nothing new or uncertain in either a half or 1 percent sales tax or a 5 or 10 percent personal income tax, provided exemptions are at the minimum. Any sales tax that is not widespread and equal, or that is above 2 or 3 percent seems certain to fail, except the tax on "pleasant vices" like liquors and tobacco.

Graduated personal income taxes above 10 or 15 percent have been likewise sure to fail except during actual war. To maintain low rates and attain social justice, both the personal income and sales taxes are necessary.

Q. Is it not a fact that the basic criterion on which the tax burden should be distributed is ability to pay; that nothing so well measures tax paying ability as net income, and that it is generally recognized that tax paying ability increases a rate faster than income?

A. The chief subjects of federal taxation are property, cash income, personal earning capacity, tariff for revenue, tobacco and liquors.

Q. As a result of the fundamental principle recognized above, is it not a fact that the progressive income tax has come to form the backbone of the revenue system of most modern democratic states?

A. The personal income tax comes first in importance, then the 1 percent sales tax on business, from which about one-third of the total revenue should be obtained. Then comes the inheritance tax and the import tax on business for revenue chiefly.

This concludes the series of questions and answers on the sales or turnover tax. If there are new questions arising, Mr. Burton, president of the Tax League of America, will gladly answer them. Such inquiries should be addressed to him in care of this paper.

ADVENTURE OF THE TWINS

By Olive Barton Roberts

Nick had an idea. He had been thinking hard all the time that Mr. Flatfish Flounder was talking about losing his fine dinner in the fish net. He spoke up now. "Very well, Mr. Flounder, you may have your dinner, but you'll have to get it for yourself. Cap'n Pennywinkle only wants the net anyway. I didn't know that it was so full of things."

Thereupon Nick suddenly released his hold upon the fish net and all the shrimps and prawns and crabs, and the rest of them, streamed out into the sea. And you may be sure that it didn't take them a day and a half to get out of that. Off they skiddled in all directions, calling their thanks to the twins over their shoulders, while old greasy Mr. Flatfish swam round lashing his tail in a fury.

"Here, now!" he cried. "Just see what you've done! You've ruined my luncheon completely. Didn't you know that the net you are taking away with you is my dining room? I know how to set into it and how to get out and three times a day I go and feast on Mr. Fisherman's catch. What shall I do now?"

"You'll have to hunt your dinner," said Nancy calmly. "And I think you ought to thank us, for sometime sooner or later, Mr. Fisherman would have hauled you in when you weren't looking, and that would have been the end of you."

"Oh," said Mr. Flounder. "I'm not good to eat. Mr. Fisherman doesn't want me. You may be sure."

"Perhaps they'd put you in a glass case for folks to stare at," suggested Nick.

But Mr. Flounder swam away without replying, wiggling his whip of a tail in contempt.

The Twins took the net to Cap'n Pennywinkle, glad that they had been able to do the shrimps and prawns a favor.

MANY STUDENTS AT UNIVERSITY SEEKING WORK

Minneapolis, Minn., Sept. 23.—Employment for students who otherwise will be unable to complete their education is one of the greatest problems at the University of Minnesota. This fall, according to G. W. Anderson, secretary of the University Employment Bureau.

Hundreds of students now registering, including both new and returning students, will be unable to complete even the first quarter unless positions are found for them, Mr. Anderson said.

The new students appear to be a little better off than the third and fourth year students, but many of them will have to earn their way after the first quarter, Mr. Anderson said. "Many of the upper classmen, who have registered for work have told me that unless they are successful in securing it they will be forced to drop out."

An appeal has been sent out by the employment bureau to downtown stores in both St. Paul and Minneapolis asking that extra work or part time work be given to the university students. Although the response to this appeal has been generally good, it is not sufficient to care for the many applicants this fall.

During last year positions were secured for 1531 students who earned a total of $108,442.03. Of the students working 948 were men. The number of applications received so far this fall indicates a much greater demand for work than at any previous time.

FARMERS WILL HELP STARVING IN NEAR EAST

Statement is Issued by the North Dakota Near East Relief Body

PLAN TO SHIP GRAIN

Announcing that farmers of North Dakota would send 84 cars of wheat to feed starving people in the Near East, the state Near East Relief Committee makes the following statement:

"The Associated Press, September 6, stated that 700 Near East Relief orphans had died of starvation. 20 cause of the opposing armies near Ankara these children had to flee for their lives and have now perished."

"The State Committee organized for North Dakota's Grain Campaign, is headed by Mr. Fuller of the North Dakota Farm Bureau Federation. The other members, so far, are Mr. Handlett, United States Crop Statistician, Grand Forks; Mr. Haw director of the County Agricultural Agents of the state."

"The farmers of North Dakota will send to the Near East, 84 cars of wheat—our proportion in a National movement to supply children of the Near East with flour and foodstuffs for another year."

Farm Bureau to Handle

"The Farm Bureau Federation in each county, where organized, will handle the collecting of grain. The elevators of the state are to give free service. Where the Farm Bureau Federation does not exist as an organization, the county agents will assume responsibility of collecting grain. The grain is to be shipped by train to the milling stations and thence by train to the seaport and from there, by steamer to the Near East."

"The grain must be shipped not later than the 25th of October. On November 1st the whole grain campaign movement demobilizes."

Seven Years of War

"The Armenian and Syrian people have been engaged in war for seven long years. There has been no crops during this time. Their lives depend absolutely upon the generosity of the American people. The farmers of our country have risen to supply the immediate needs. The citizens of our cities and villages are supplying the funds necessary for the transportation of the grain. The movement is shortly under way to make this request."

"There are 150,000 orphans in orphanages in the Near East. The problem is what to do with them. It seems unthinkable to let them starve. There is no one to feed them but America."

"With full appreciation of the straits of our own times and especially in our own state, the committee nevertheless is sure that no person able to contribute a portion of the grain will find it in his heart to refuse. It is the living bread to hungry children who otherwise will perish."

NEED SUPPORT FOR FOOTBALL OF HIGH SCHOOL

Appeal of Athletic Association is Given to Lovers of Sport

The Bismarck High School Athletic Association in a letter addressed "To the Lovers of Wholesome Sport" explains its appeal for public support for the football team. The letter follows:

"The Bismarck high school has developed a working football team and has arranged a good schedule of five games with more pending. Three games are guaranteed on the home field with one more in prospect.

"The patronage of the high school itself is insufficient to finance this schedule. We are not asking charity, merely patronage, giving value received for every penny spent for this kind of entertainment.

"It is our sincere hope that we may see interest in the city at large in this 'Greatest American Game,' the game of real action, the test of brain, brawn and generalship, that Bismarck will make our games outstanding events in the calendar of sports and social activities.

"Can you imagine a more enjoyable or invigorating hour and a half than to fill up that car, get out into a keen crisp air with a cane and pennant in one hand and a megaphone in the other and root from the sidelines while twenty-two tough and well trained gladiators clash in every play?"

"We have scheduled games with Jamestown, Dickinson, Mandan, Minot and Valley City and possibly Williston. We need your enthusiasm and support and you need the stimulating influence of these games. We are expecting you out and are hereby thanking you in advance.

Sincerely yours,
BISMARCK HIGH SCHOOL ATHLETIC ASS'N.

BOTH YANKEES AND CLEVELAND IN VICTORIES

Neither of Leaders Gains in American League Pennant Chase

Boston, Sept. 23.—Cleveland won from Boston, 9 to 8, in 12 innings today, thus virtually keeping pace with New York in the battle for first place. The Indians won on O'Neill's long double to right center, Pinch Hitter Speaker's infield out and Jamieson's fast bounder which Scott could not field in time. Speaker nearly collapsed in running rolled to Pratt. Sotheron's poor fielding of bunts, Sewell's miff of an easy fly which allowed two runs to score and a freak three base hit by Walters which Smith lost in the run were the leading factors in the Boston scoring. Russell and Thormahlen were wild but the best work of Meyers for the Red Sox and Morton and Caldwell for Cleveland was excellent. It was Morton's second victory in two days. Score: R. H. E. Cleveland, 102 200 000 9-11 5 Boston, 110 400 020 00-8 12 0 Batteries—Sotheron, Morton, Caldwell and O'Neill; Shinnott; Russell Thormahlen, Meyers and Walters.

NEW YORK WINS
New York, Sept. 23.—New York defeated Detroit, 12 to 5 today in the last game of the season between the two teams. The contest was loosely played. E. New York, 101 000 000—5 11 5 Detroit, 101 012 314 10x—12 9 2 Batteries—Ehmeke, Daurs, Boone, and Basseler; Shawkey, Quinn and Schang.

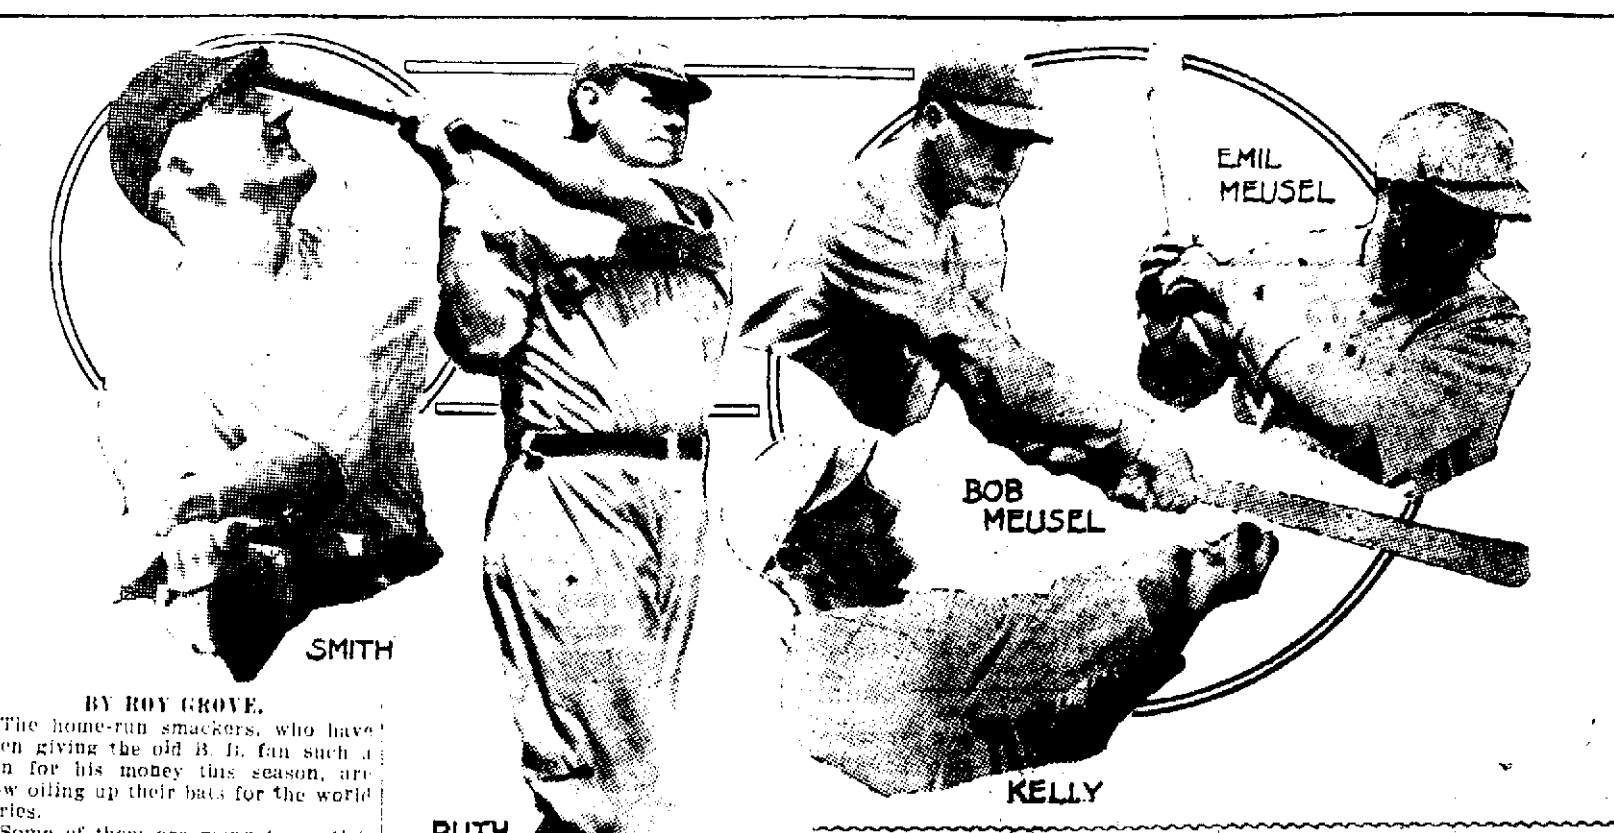

Pittsburgh, Sept. 23.—Pittsburgh and Brooklyn split even on yesterday's doubleheader, the locals winning the first by 3 to 1 and losing the second, 2 to 0. In the first game the visitors scored the runs in the fourth inning on Griffith's double and Wheat's single. Pittsburgh scored three runs in the eighth on hits by Grubbs, Barnhardt and Clevinger, aided by errors by Grimes and Miller. Clevinger held the visiting batsmen to a halt in the second game, but both his passes were converted into runs.

New York Giants was victorious in a doubleheader with Brooklyn. The first game was a 1 to 0 win for the Giants, the second a 1 to 1 tie. In the first game, the visitors scored the runs in the fourth inning on Griffith's double and Wheat's single. Pittsburgh scored three runs in the eighth on hits by Grubbs, Barnhardt and Clevinger, aided by errors by Grimes and Miller. Clevinger held the visiting batsmen to a halt in the second game, but both his passes were converted into runs.

A TARGET FOR HOME-RUN KINGS! WORLD SERIES SWAT HEROES OF PAST GIVE 'EM SOMETHING TO SHOOT AT!

BY ROY GROVE.
The home-run smackers, who have been giving the old B. B. fan such a run for his money this season, are now oiling up their bats for the world series.

Some of them are going to participate in the big mix. What'll happen? Will the fence-busting continue when the teams tighten up for the money playing? Will new club records be marked up?

Doffing our chapeau to the abilities of the present day heavy hitters, we'd like to travel to remark that they've have to rise to beat the home-run records for the big series set by stars of yesteryear.

Who'll repeat the Frank Baker strong man stunt by making two homers in two days during the Athletic-Giants series of 1911?

Who'll eclipse the record of two circuit clouts in a series made by Clarke of the Pirates in 1909, Harry Hooper of the Red Sox in 1911 and repeated by Larry Gardner, then of the Red Sox but now with the Indians in 1916.

And, if THAT is possible, who's the man who will duplicate the feat of Outfielder Dougherty in smacking two home runs in one day in the 1903 series between the Pirates and Boston?

Those are a few of the marks that the present day swatmen can aim at.

Maybe it will be done. The Big Bambino and all the little Bambinos are plugging along at a home-run rate that would have toppled runs over with heart trouble a decade ago. Present indications are that some of the heaviest sluggers in the leagues will get into the series.

Babe Ruth, the Meusel brothers, Bob and Emil, with the Yanks and Giants respectively; Elmer Smith, who made himself immortal in the world series of 1920 by poling the ball over the fence with the bases loaded with Indians; George Kelly, leading home-run manufacturer of the National! Some of them, at any rate, will participate.

Frank Baker, back with the Yanks, may get another session of money-making. Larry Gardner, on the hot corner for the Indians, may get in.

These two are tied for the honor of leading world series players in the number of home runs. Each man has three to his credit.

Will that record fall at the hands of one of them this season? Or will Babe Ruth come along and pound out enough home runs in a single series to put Larry and the Maryland farmer into the discard?

These are some of the things that are going to make the 1921 series interesting.

HORSESHOES NOW COLLEGE SPORT

AMES, Ia., Sept. 23.—Horseshoe pitching has been added to the list of intra-mural sports at Iowa State college. Two dual meets have been arranged with Drake university, and a state inter-scholastic tournament is planned for the spring.

ed here and a welcome extended by Charles W. Mayser, director of physical training, to all who "come out" for horseshoes. The director sees in the sport a new means of increasing athletic interest and development among the students.

PITCHERS PUTTING THRILLS IN A. L. RACE

BY ROY GROVE.
Two pitchers, both with superb control, have been given responsibility for the Garrison finish in the American League race this season.

Carl Mays, left, and Stanley Coveleskie, right, of the Yanks and Stars respectively, have been given the job of winning the pennant.

Mays, while with the Red Sox, went through two of the big time performances, when Coveleskie pitched himself into a lead in the ninth inning when he won all three of his starts in the Cleveland-Brooklyn game.

Both men are near the top among league pitchers. "Covey" is always cool and deliberate and master of the moist pill in a pinch, while Mays at times becomes excitable and wild.

Delivery Famous.
Mays' underhand delivery is the most peculiar in the big leagues. He's famous for his submariner ball. It was while batting against Mays that Ray Chapman, Cleveland shortstop, was beamed and killed in 1920.

Mays was the most talked of man in baseball when he quit the Red Sox after an argument and went to the Yanks. He pitched there only with the aid of an injunction gotten out by the New York club against Ben Johnson, American League head, who tried to prevent the transfer from leaving.

Mays made his first world series appearance in 1916 with Boston. The score was 6 to 5 Boston; Brooklyn was batting, with one out and the bases flooded. Mays was called upon to go in and pitch, a job for a vet. But he retired the side scoreless. Few pitchers have such a warm introduction to any world series.

Covey No Youth.
Coveleskie is no youth. He was 31 last July.

He started his diamond career 14 years ago in the town of Shamokin, Pa., where he was born.

After knocking around in the minors for some time he went to the Pacific coast and spent five years with the Spokane and Portland clubs.

While with Spokane he picked up his spittball, and successfully developed it until he got it going good for his first big league year in 1916.

EVANS VICTOR IN HARD FIGHT IN GOLF PLAY

Champion Defends Title Defeating New York Man in Fine Golf Exhibition

St. Louis, Sept. 23.—In two spectacular matches that ended on the 36th green yesterday in the national amateur golf championship at the St. Louis Country club, Chick Evans, defending his title, defeated Jesse Sweetser, of New York, by the narrow margin of 1 up, and Jesse Guilford of Boston (eliminated Harrison Johnston, of St. Paul, by the same score, bringing them together in the semifinals today.

In a still closer contest, although not so thrilling in its finish, Willie Hunter, British champion, defeated Bobby Jones of Atlanta, 2 up and 1 to play, after being down to the Georgian nearly all day, and won the right to contest the other semifinal match with Robert Gardner of Chicago, twice former champion, who bested R. E. Knepper of Sioux City, four and two.

Finish Is Dramatic
The most dramatic finish was furnished by the present champion, who in defending his title had to shoot 29-37-73 in the morning to lead Sweetser by two up, the New Yorker having scored 73. Evans after accumulating a few more holes in the third nine, with a 38 to Sweetser's 33, became careless with his putter and after dropping the 32nd hole by taking three putts from 20 feet away and the 33rd where Sweetser scored a birdie, Evans found himself only two up and three to go.

He tightened his game perceptibly and dropped his tee shot on the 180-yard 4th ten feet to the left of the cup.

A back spin caused the ball to spring back a foot from where it landed. Sweetser's drive was on the verge of the green 30 feet from the hole, but he managed to halve it in three when Evans's well studied putt stopped short because of the mud on it.

Shows Fighting Qualities
Evans decided to end the contest on the home green and after walking to the top of the hill to measure the distance and observe the direction of the wind, backed down to his ball. Taking a brassie he cut as beautiful a shot as was ever played and the ball dug into the fairway like a mastic plug, stopping a few feet beyond, but 25 to the right of the cup on the sloping green.

Sweetser again showed his fighting qualities by plunking an iron 12 feet to the left of the flag. Evans' putt took the hillside as though it were running through a slot and dropped into the hole for a birdie three without any semblance of a gobble side slip, so exact had he estimated the distance. Sweetser did not try to hole his putt as a halve would do him no good and Chick generously conceded him a 3, making his defeat one down instead of two down as it likely would have been.

WOMEN ORGANIZE CLUB

More than 100 representatives of these callings were present at the initial meeting, which was addressed by Miss Helen Spencer, of Fargo, state food specialist; Miss Helen Schell, field representative of the county superintendent of schools; Miss Esther Jack, city surveyor, and other local young women Miss Bessie Baldwin, city librarian, is temporary president, and Miss Katherine Erickson temporary secretary of the new organization.

NO WEEK NIGHT DANCES ALLOWED STUDENTS, ASKED

Devils Lake, N. D., Sept. 23.—Devils Lake children of school age, whether in the grades or in the high school, will not be permitted to attend dances in the city on nights during the school week. If the wishes of Police Matron Minnie Nelson are carried out by the police department.

Miss Nelson appeared before the city commission with the request that all school children be kept away from public dances between Monday and Friday evenings, stating that many teachers of the city had come to her with the complaint that when school children, and especially high school students, attend dances during the school week it is impossible for them to keep up in their studies, and that they are usually sleepy and inattentive in school the day following a dance.

Miss Nelson said, however, that there would be no objection to the children attending dances Friday and Saturday nights.

COYOTE CRAWLS INTO BARN

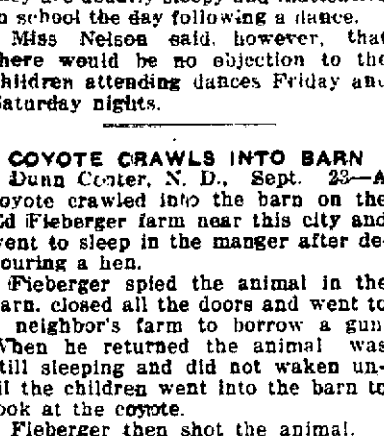

Dunn Center, N. D., Sept. 23.—A coyote crawled into the barn on the Ed Fieberger farm near this city and went to sleep in the manger after devouring a hen.

Fieberger spied the animal in the barn, closed all the doors and went to a neighbor's farm to borrow a gun. When he returned the animal was still sleeping and did not waken until the children went into the barn to look at the coyote.

Fieberger then shot the animal.

LACK HUSBANDS FOR 10 MILLION EUROPE'S PLIGHT

War Cause of Condition Which May Remake Economic Life of Old Country

WOMEN AFTER MEN'S JOBS

By N. E. A. Service

London, Sept. 23.—There are 10,000,000 women and girls in Europe condemned by a surplus of their sex to support themselves through the aid of the soldiers.

This condition, aggravated by the war, is resulting in strenuous competition for women for men's jobs.

The situation is especially acute in the British Isles, where the first preliminary reports of the 1921 census show the females greatly outnumbering the males, the city population vastly exceeds the country dwellers.

For more than 100 years there has been an excess of females over males, but never in anything like the present proportion, 1905 to 1906.

Total Figures

The total number of people in England and Wales is 37,885,242, of whom 18,082,229 are males and 19,803,013 females. This is an excess of 1,720,784 females, compared with 1,157,276 in 1911.

Aside from the regular excess of female over male births in England and Wales, and aside from the loss of population by emigration, the great disparity this time is caused by the huge losses of men during the war.

In Scotland the population is 4,882,288, of whom 2,348,403 are males and 2,533,885 females. The excess of females is 185,482.

This means that in Great Britain there are nearly 2,000,000 women who cannot hope to marry and have their own homes, unless they happen to marry foreigners, or emigrate.

This phenomenon is common to most of Europe. The last available figures for the continent are in the main those of 19 years ago which show the following excesses of females over males:

Russia	2,500,000
Germany	841,000
France	683,000
Italy	628,000
Spain	550,000
Austria	506,000
Portugal	302,000
Hungary	196,000
Sweden	125,000
Norway	111,000
Denmark	84,000
Switzerland	62,000
Belgium	62,000
Netherlands	60,000
Finland	22,000
Ireland	6,000

Including the excess of Great Britain at that time, Europe had a total of nearly eight million more females than males.

The excess now is at least $10,000,000.

All of the belligerent countries lost huge quantities of their men during the war. And in Russia, Poland and the new states carved out of Russia, there have been additional losses from famine and disease.

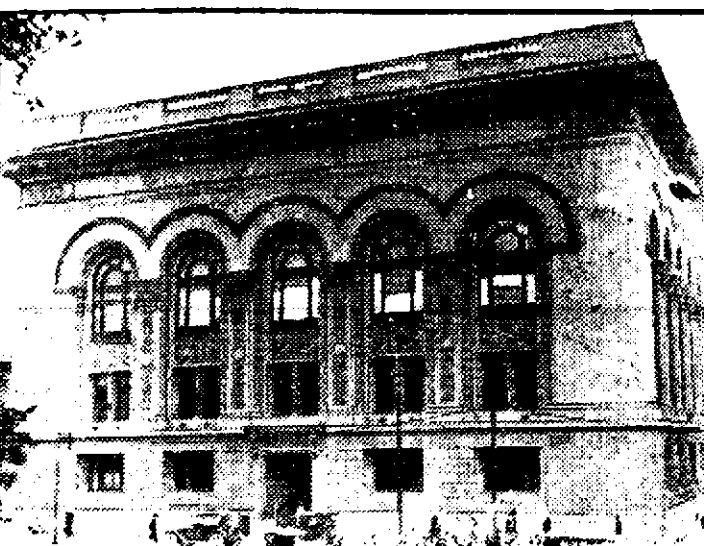

Growth of Cities

But the growing city population of Great Britain is just as alarming to the social economists. One hundred years ago England and Wales were self-sustained as to food.

Since then the population has tremendously increased and the total of foodstuffs grown at home has probably decreased.

The result is that Great Britain is a huge workshop which must buy its daily bread and meat from abroad and pay for it in manufactured goods.

PUTS IN TWO MONTHS IN FASHIONABLE COLLEGE; GOES BACK TO SOAP FACTORY

Kansas City, Kan., Sept. 22.—After putting in two months at Bryn Mawr college this summer, Miss Louise Beauchamp of this city is back at the soap factory where she is a forewoman.

The previous education this Kansas girl had enjoyed halted abruptly at the eighth grade. She then went to work in the factory wrapping cakes of soap. She continued at it several years, until she was chosen to go to Bryn Mawr with all expenses paid.

This was part of an experiment, conducted by the college authorities, women labor leaders and alumnae, this year for the first time. Eighty-one factory workers in various parts of the country were given scholarships, and had every advantage of college life and education at this well known Pennsylvania institution. Then they went back to the work they had left.

"Of course, I didn't get an education in eight weeks, a person couldn't be expected to," the Kansas City girl said. "But I did enjoy it, certainly, and I think I got a good deal out of it. I tried to get all I could."

Miss Beauchamp came back fired with ambition to do something to lend a helping hand to her fellow workers and better their condition in every way possible, she says.

"How would you set about to do it, if you had a free hand?" inquired a visitor.

"I'd authorize them," she replied promptly, "and work for better hours and better pay."

Miss Beauchamp says she does not expect to return to Bryn Mawr or any other college for further work. She says that, as far as her plans are now, she will go ahead with the old job, trying to make something more out of it, by aid of her summer's experience, and trying to help other girls make their own jobs better.

STOCK JUDGING CONTESTS BEING HELD BEFORE AG. COLLEGE OPENS

Fargo, N. D., Sept. 23.—Although the fall term at the Agricultural College does not open until Monday, Sept. 26, the contest is on for places on the college stock judging team to enter the international exposition judging contests. Eight students who are trying for places on the team are spending all this week at the college, getting practice in judging stock in the college herds and in the herds of livestock breeders in the Fargo vicinity. Several others are expected to join the preliminary judging practice before the end of the week.

Four men and an alternate will make up the team to represent the North Dakota institution at the international contests, to be held the first day of the big Chicago livestock show, November 26. Classes in beef cattle, draft horses, hogs and sheep will be judged. The contestants in the collegiate section must be either in the junior or senior class in their institution. The final tryout for the North Dakota College team will be held about the middle of November. Prof. E. J. Thompson of the animal husbandry department announced.

The men who have spent the week at the college in the preliminary tryouts are Elmer Darling, Dunseith; Claude W. Heddon, Hays; Earl J. Heising, Conway; Earl Ferguson, East Grand Forks, Minn.; H. J. Brush, Lisbon; C. C. Kadlec, Piek; S. Wilner, Tower City, and P. T. Judd, Cando. Several more men will enter the tryouts when school opens next week.

Prof. J. H. Sheppard of the Agricultural Experiment Station, has been superintendent of the international judging contest several years. North Dakota Club Department will enter a team in the non-collegiate judging contest.

SEES LIGNITE BOOM GROWING IN NO. DAKOTA

Chemist Who Visited Plants In Germany Discusses Possibilities

BINDER IS NOT NEEDED

"The greatest industry coming out to solve the fuel problem in North Dakota in making the state self-sufficient in power out of lignite. In Germany today generating electricity, heating furnaces, firing locomotives, and producing industrial commodities which are valuable as power, tar, benzene, ammonia, paraffin, alcohol, cresol, and 200 by products," says Carl Jaeger, Minneapolis chemist, who is in Bismarck after an investigating trip to Germany and other countries.

"The greatest lignite boom is based upon the convincing calculation that North Dakota with thirty-two thousand square miles of lignite will not be able to restore its production of lignite within visible time. It is the recognition of that fact which has diverted Germany's most resourceful men of business in quite other directions and which has now produced the great lignite boom and producing about two hundred million tons annually. Lignite is not efficient enough as power to induce industrial plants. Therefore, briquetting will be the chief use. The main aim of the coal council is to support the new national aim of turning lignite from a third-rate fuel into a source of unlimited power and of unlimited wealth. Direct consumption of solid fuel is always waste, that is the principle underlying the marvelous development of the lignite industry. The great need of lubricating oils brought lignite distillation as a technically perfect and commercially profitable industry.

Studied in Europe.

Mr. Jaeger, who is president of the Lignite Industries Corporation of Minneapolis has studied the problem and all processes in Europe for the last twelve months. He has a process by which experts say commercial success can be obtained through generating and carbonizing, by which lignite can be distilled to any stage of completeness. The lignite distillation industry will take an enormous dimension in setting up the greatest distillation plants in North Dakota and becoming an industrial state in the matter of mechanical power.

"The gas will be supplied to industrial works with a system of long distance industrial delivery, the gas is cheap because the by-products, in reality chief products, have a ready sale. The by-products are cheap, because the gas is not wasted, even the ash will be used in making excellent cement," says Mr. Jaeger.

Professor E. J. Babcock at the College of Mining Engineering of the University of North Dakota at Grand Forks has given careful consideration and has discovered new and practical methods of using lignite.

Can Produce Oil.

"In view of the enormous size of the oil industry there is no question that North Dakota will be the greatest oil-producing state in the United States, because of the threatened shortage of petroleum, and that so much petroleum is turned into fuel oil. The rapidly increasing use of motor vehicles in the United States has introduced an entirely new problem. Coal waste promotes extravagance and raises the cost of living exhausted at

LLOYD GEORGE'S "PEACE PEN"

Lloyd George snapped in Scotland, signing for a box of cigars sent him by anonymous American tourists, who wished him success in the Irish peace conferences. See the pen he's using? "This is the pen," he said, "with which I signed the Peace Treaty and with it I hope to sign the Irish agreement."

an alarming rate," continued Mr. Jaeger.

"George H. Ashley, state geologist of Pennsylvania, estimates that practically all of the easily workable coal beds of Pennsylvania six feet or more in thickness will disappear in seventy-five to eighty years, at the present rate of increase in exhaustion.

"However, the Lignite Corporation of North Dakota, will progress to chemical, electro-chemical industry in connection with briquetting gas and by-product plants, affording the highest return from the lignite on a commercial scale and producing briquettes without a binder."

INTERSTATE BRIDGE PLANNED

Bowman, N. D., Sept. 23.—Selection of a site for a bridge across the Box Elder creek near the state line, and agreement upon some arrangement for financing the project, will be the objects to be discussed at a meeting at Box Elder, S. D., Sept. 25, by county commissioners representing Bowman county, North and Harding county, South Dakota. The bridge is said to be especially necessary to facilitate the use of the mail road, which springs floods often interfering with. The bridge will require long detours necessary when the creek is too deeply flooded for fording.

DEVILS LAKE MAY TAKE OVER PARK PROPERTY

Devils Lake, N. D., Sept. 23.—The city commission has ordered steps taken to enable the city to take over the Homer property, known as Soo Park, north of the Soo Line tracks for use as an athletic park.

Most of this property really belongs to the city on account of the nonpayment of taxes, but there are two lots there on which the taxes have been paid, and the City Commission last night authorized City Auditor Cowley to return to Miss Rugar the money she had paid in taxes on these two lots, requesting that she return the tax certificates. The auditor will then ask the county commission to sell its interest in the property for the payment of the general taxes thereon.

WIDLUND PORTRAIT COMPLETED

Grand Forks, N. D., Sept. 23.—A full length portrait of I. A. Widlund of Grand Forks, vice-consul of Sweden for the North Dakota district has just been completed here by G. I. Gulliksen, local painter, who has lived here several years. Mr. Widlund is delineated wearing the golden, rubiset cross of the first class of the order of Vasa, which was bestowed upon him recently by King Gustavus of Sweden.

Light Six Now $1150

Why Studebaker Can Sell the Light-Six at the New Low Price

The Light-Six is built complete in the most modern automobile plant in the world, designed especially for the production of this car. Studebaker manufactures in this plant its own drop forgings; its own castings, stampings, motors, axles, transmissions; its own steering gears, springs, bodies, tops and other vital parts. Under these favorable manufacturing conditions and because of its enormous production and standardized methods of manufacture, Studebaker is able to make important savings—these savings are reflected in the price of the car to you. The Light-Six is a real step forward in automobile engineering. No other light, six-cylinder automobile yet produced has a motor so free from vibration, nor so flexible and powerful.

about the LIGHT-SIX

What you should know

Power—40 H. P. in a detachable-head motor of great flexibility, remarkably free from vibrations, and with the exclusive Studebaker inclined valve feature.

Economy—18 to 22 miles to the gallon—12,000 to 18,000 miles on tires.

Balance—You could cut the Light-Six in two parts or four parts and find that each section would weigh the same. Such perfect balance means steady road-holding—there is no side sway or creeping.

Comfort—Equal distribution of weight means easy riding and easy handling. The touch of one hand on the steering wheel is sufficient to keep it on the road.

See this car—drive it—test it. You will be won by it. You will understand why it is the Studebaker ideal of what a light, six-cylinder car should be.

Save a Dollar

On September 28th and 29th all our Men's and Boys' Suits and Overcoats will be on sale at $1.00 less than regular prices.

That this is an actual saving will easily be seen when it is remembered that our regular prices are always the very lowest consistent with honest merchandise and the one price system.

We will have many other bargains to show on Bismarck Dollar Days, and will also offer some broken size lots at about one-half of regular prices. Our assortments of all kinds of men's and boys' wearables are now unusually large and the prices on all of these goods have been reduced on an average of about 40% during the last twelve to fifteen months.

We will surely try our best to make it pay you to come to Bismarck and stock up for the winter. You are welcome to make this store your headquarters and, if you wish, leave your packages here while you shop elsewhere.
